I. Background

FDA is announcing the availability of a guidance for industry entitled “Advanced Prostate Cancer: Developing Gonadotropin-Releasing Hormone Analogues.” This guidance describes FDA’s current recommendations regarding the overall development program and clinical trial designs for developing GnRH analogues to treat advanced prostate cancer.

This guidance finalizes the draft guidance of the same title issued on July 18, 2019 (84 FR 34400). FDA considered comments received on the draft guidance as the guidance was finalized. Changes from the draft to the final guidance included clarifying the scope of the guidance in the introduction section, adding recommendations on safety monitoring, and broadening recommendations on the appropriate trial population to include metastatic as well as biochemically recurrent disease rather than only metastatic.

This guidance is being issued consistent with FDA’s good guidance practices regulation (21 CFR 10.115). The guidance represents the current thinking of FDA on “Advanced Prostate Cancer: Developing Gonadotropin-Releasing Hormone Analogues.” It does not establish any rights for any person and is not binding on FDA or the public. You can use an alternative approach if it satisfies the requirements of the applicable statutes and regulations.

The previously approved collections of information are subject to review by the OMB under the PRA. The collections of information in 21 CFR part 210 and 211, 21 CFR part 314, and 21 CFR part 601 have been approved under OMB control numbers 0910-0139, 0910-0001, and 0910-0338, respectively. The collections of information in 21 CFR part 312 have been approved under OMB control number 0910-0014. The collections of information in 21 CFR 201.56 and 201.57 for the content and format of labeling for human prescription drug and biological products have been approved under OMB control number 0910-0572. The collections of information in 21 CFR part 58 for good laboratory practice have been approved under OMB control number 0910-0119.
